Disclaimers & General Installation Practices

1. Prices are on a commissioned project only basis.
2. All prices shown are for our standard product specification. Any deviation from our standards will be charged for accordingly.
3. When pricing orangeries, the price shown includes only the frames, fascia / ring beam and roof lantern. It does not include ANY components for the flat roof or laminated beams etc.
4. All prices quoted are for bespoke products & designs, unless otherwise stated in our quotation. Materials to be used will be clarified in the project proposal.
5. All fascia boards and tongue & groove panels are priced as exterior grade MDF as standard. This is assuming the job is painted an opaque colour. If the job is to be stained, then they will be solid timber. This will incur additional costs.
6. Around 15m to 20m of flat 55mm D-mould trim is sent with each job as standard and is allowed for in the price shown. Any additional required will be charged for.
7. If the building to which our structure will be attached is exceptionally uneven, then additional charges will be made for increased design time and timber content etc.
8. Our standard fitting tolerance is 10mm overall (this will depend on the nature of the openings). It is deemed acceptable that some planing / cutting by the installers may be required on site to ensure a snug fit on certain items. Trims / cover strips may also be required to cover up any gaps on site.
9. Any bare timber exposed by cutting / planing / drilling on site should be touched in with the primer and paint provided. Any end grain exposed will be sealed using a standard end grain sealer before painting.
10. All frames will be installed level, upright and square. Although all our doors and sashes are pre swung in our factory, it may be necessary for small adjustments to be made to the locks / keeps / hinges after installation to make the windows / doors operate correctly.
11. All timber sections are at the discretion of Cottonwood Interiors Limited. We will use the sections and sizes of timber we feel give the best balance of structural integrity and aesthetics.
12. We use specially selected high quality Idigbo or Popular for most carpentry applications, which is a very durable and stable hardwood, other cabinetry projects we tend to use Oak, it is important to be aware that all timbers are a natural product, and although every precaution is taken, it will be prone to movement once it reaches site. This is due to a number of factors, such as temperature and humidity etc. Some of the defects that may occur are:-
 - a. shrinking / swelling of the timber (both in size and length);
 - b. splits / gaps appearing;
 - c. warping / bending / twisting of the timber;
 - d. bleaching (changing the colour of the paint in places);
 - e. timber colour variation;
 - f. joints between timbers swelling at different rates and becoming visible.

All of the above are considered natural and acceptable occurrences for timber products. No action will be taken by Cottonwood Interiors Limited unless the overall structural integrity is compromised or it is deemed to be due to sub-standard workmanship by Cottonwood Interiors Limited.

To minimise the effect of timber movement we use laminated timber in our doors, use ironmongery with maximum adjustment, and design in as much tolerance for movement as possible. In spite of all these precautions FLUSH style doors and windows may still swell enough to cause the door / sash to stick. Should this occur Cottonwood Interiors Limited will not make any free of charge visits to site to ease in sticking doors and sashes, unless the problem is deemed to be due to sub-standard workmanship by Cottonwood Interiors Limited.

We will always recommend using our storm proof (over rebated) doors and sashes, which have more tolerance and adjustment.

13. MDF window board will always be used as standard on opaque painted jobs.
14. All glazing carried out on site should be carried out in accordance with GGF recommendations.
15. The high tack security glazing tape we use is more than adequate to hold the glazing beads and plant-on glazing bars in place.
16. Site visits and replacement of items will only occur when all other reasonable solutions have been exhausted.
17. Any roof glass over 3m long will require a horizontal aluminium joining section. No timber purlin will be supplied beneath this unless specified / requested.
18. Prices shown include standard door hinge caps only. Decorative hinge caps will be charged as extras.
